

HER FANTASY LoveR

BECOME HER ONE NIGHT STAND FANTASY - EVERY NIGHT!

So you're thinking of buying a sex toy are you? Well, let us be the first to congratulate you on making a choice that will open up a whole new world of erotic play.

We must warn you that it will be hard to stop at just one, because once you've enjoyed the unyielding freedom that a toy can bring to you or to your relationship you will want more. More. MORE!!

Just so we're on the same page, sex toys are basically any item that can be used to enhance or improve your sex life.

They can be something as simple as a cock ring, as powerful as an electrical stimulator, or as advanced as an ergonomic dildo crafted from titanium featuring nematic pistons and remote controls.

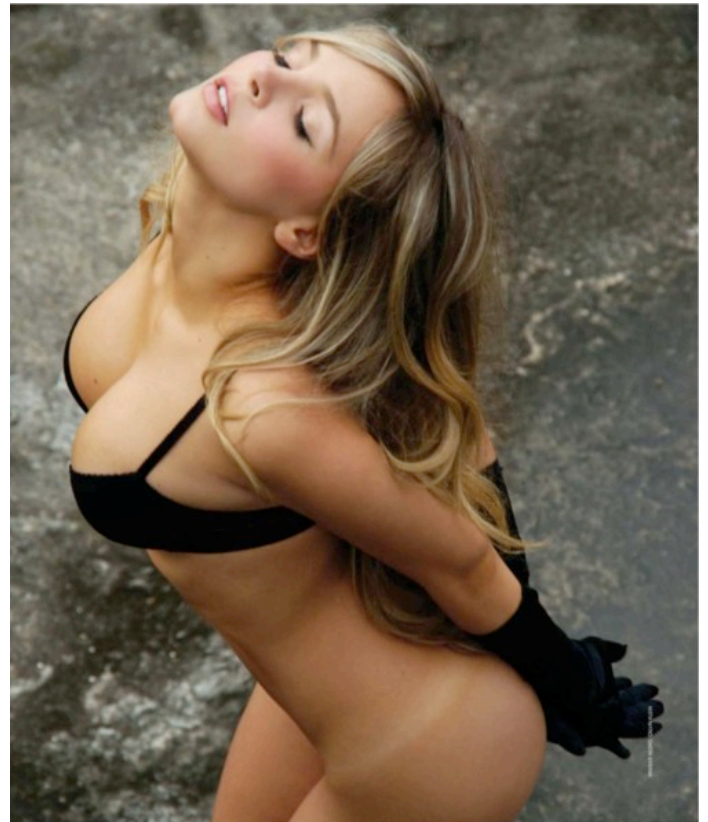

Sex toys play an important role in any healthy and fun sex life. They help people learn more about their sexual needs and wants.

Sex toys are a great way to expand someone's sexual playfulness by encouraging them to experiment and open up completely new avenues of pleasure.

Additionally, sex toys are also useful for helping jumpstart a couple's sex life if it gets stuck in a rut.

Introducing sex toys into any relationship for the first time needs to be done carefully, but it can prove highly satisfying for everyone involved.

Some believe sex toys have done more to prevent divorce than any number of marriage counselors.

Sex toys are not meant to serve as a long-term substitute for a caring, loving partner. After all, a dildo or male masturbator will never feel exactly like the real thing no matter how realistic it is.

Sex toys are typically divided into two broad categories – toys for women and toys for men.

There is some overlap between them when it comes to items like anal sex toys that are used by both men and women, but the division makes it much easier to find which sex toys you'll enjoy the most.

Women's sex toys generally include anything designed for vaginal penetration and stimulating the clit or G spot.

Men's sex toys naturally focus on the penis, from masturbation to enhancement.

Here are some of the options available:

Traditional Vibrators

Traditional vibrators are a great choice for a 'newbie' as they tend to be streamlined, simple and to the point.

Great for both penetration and clitoral stimulation and available in small to realistic sizes though jumbo fantasy size is available if you dare!

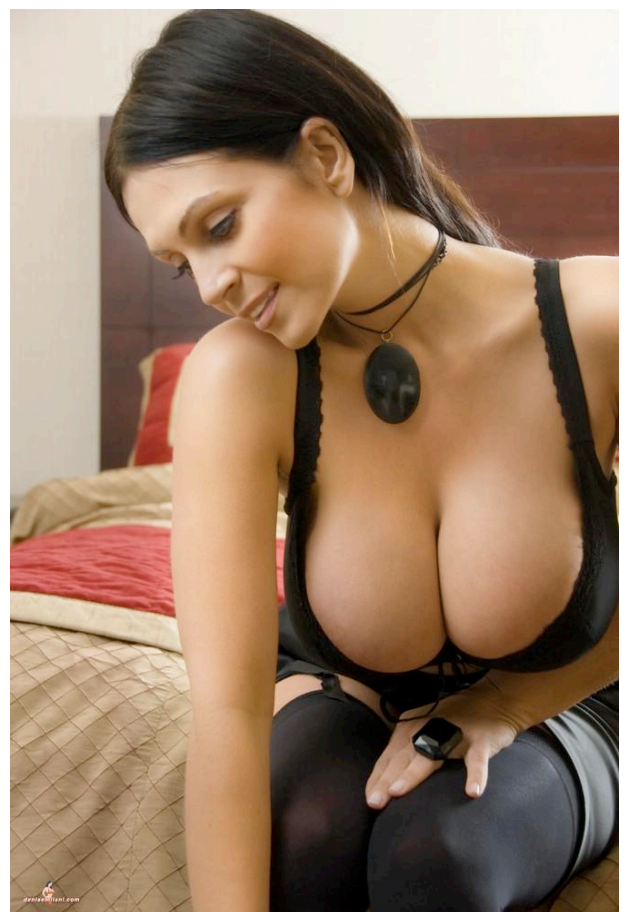

Dual Action Vibrators (Rabbit Vibrators)

Sex and The City made these types of vibes popular after they aired an episode dedicated to the 'Rabbit'.

They feature a few more bells and whistles than the traditional vibrators but certainly live up to the hype!

They offer both clitoral and vaginal stimulation with their vibrating and sometimes rotating shafts as well as external clit stimulator.

The sensation overload has been responsible for some super-quick and very powerful orgasms.

G-spot Vibrators

As the G-spot is located on the front wall of the vagina (towards the stomach), approximately 2 inches in; the G-spot vibes are designed with a curve made to reach the spot just right and stimulate it like no man or finger ever could!

Clitoral Stimulators

These powerful little guys pack a lot of punch!

Don't let the compact size of many of the clit stimulators fool you as they serve their purpose just right! Most women require clitoral stimulation to orgasm and whether you're playing solo or with your partner; these mini-vibes are easy to use and extremely effective, not to mention compact enough to use while your partner is busy on your other parts!

Dildos (Realistic Dildos)

Dildos are made for those who are longing to be filled.

They are generally life-like in appearance and feel and made specifically for penetration.

Sizes to suit everyone you can get them in small all the way up to super-sized!

There are also double-ended dildos for one or two people? or three? four?

There are also some super decadent glass dildos that offer a smooth and luxurious choice for dildo lovers that are also pleasing to the eye.

Anal Vibrators and Butt Plugs

If anal play is what you're after then there are dozens of choices to tickle your fancy as far as anal toys go! With varying sizes and the choice of vibrating or non, there is something for everyone.

Starting off small would be smart when venturing into previously un-chartered territory.

No matter what size or type you opt for here, keep in mind the most important thing of all: lube, lube, lube!!

For Couples or Adventurous Singles

These are great times for those looking to bring toys into a relationship.

Add some naughty steam to any outing with a hands free vibrator that comes complete with a remote control allowing one of you complete control over the pleasure of the other.

Hands free vibes are also great for singles that are looking to make multi-tasking more stimulating!

Try wearing vibrating panties to work or to the mall if you dare!

Go ahead no one will know what that smile is all about! It can be your little secret'

Materials

Sex toys are made from several different types of materials which offer varying sensations. Here is a breakdown of the most popular to help you make your choice:

Plastic is used to make most of the 'traditional vibrators'. It is inexpensive, easy to care for and offers intense vibration because of its ability to transfer the vibrations through it so well.

Jelly is pliable and comes in a vast array of textures and colors. It's soft and smooth, yet still firm enough to make for easy penetration. It is also easy to clean.

Latex is another favorite for those looking for a more life-like feel. This tends to be used most to make realistic dildos.

Bear in mind that a small percentage of people have an allergy to latex, so use caution if you suspect that you may be one of those people.

Silicone toys are great because they are durable, range from softer to harder and are even dishwasher safe!

Glass is wonderful as it can be heated or cooled safely before use to offer up a different sensation every time.

They are also smooth and aesthetically pleasing, though not at all pliable.

Cyberskin is the most true-to-life of all the materials out there.

Though sometimes a little more expensive; these offer the look and feel of real skin, giving you the most realistic experience.

These also generally come with their own special cleanser and renewing talc.

Caring For Your Sex Toys

Once you have made your choice and finally get your hands on your toy of choice, you will need to take care of it to make sure that you continue to get the most bang for your buck!

Sex toys are made of different materials and some require a little more care than others.

Keeping your sex toy clean is important no matter what, but be especially diligent if you will be sharing your toys.

Using condoms on toys is the best choice if it will be passed around during play time

The majority of toys can be cleaned using sex toy cleaners, as well as a mild soap with water will do the trick for most toys as well, such as those made from silicone, latex, glass or plastic.

Be sure to keep the water away from the motor of the toy unless it's labeled as 'waterproof'.

When caring for your Cyberskin toy, it is recommended that you do so using the provided cleaner and talc to help keeps its texture.

A very mild soap and warm water is another alternative.

Sex toys can be an erotic addition to your sex life whether you are single or involved. Take the time to use the information given to choose to best toy for your wants and needs.

When you are ready to buy your first (or next) toy, there are two online store I highly recommend above all others.

These stores specialize in offering you the highest quality toys at the best prices. And because you are a member of the Fantasy Lover Formula, I was able to get them to agree to giving you an even bigger discount.

Just click on either of the links below and pick out what ever you want!

1) AdamEve.com

- Simply use offer code: 25OFFONE at checkout

2) Babeland.com

- Discounts are automatically applied at checkout.