Hello and welcome back,

This module is dedicated to helping you learn how to talk to a woman in such ways that she become so turned on, he won't be able to think about anything else other than getting you alone so he can rip your clothes off right then and there.

I bet you're going to be surprised at how easy it is to accomplish this when you know exactly what to say and how to say it.

In this bonus you are going to learn how to use text messages, as well as simple, innocent sounding words and phrases (you probably use every day) to get her thinking about you in a very sexual way.

Doing this well, all comes down to a simple matter of understanding how a woman's brain works.

See, men are very visual creatures. This is why most pornography features extreme close ups and tons of angles of the same shot. Men like to see what's going on all the time.

Women on the other hand tend to use their imagination when it comes to sexual fantasies.

This is why romance novels continue to sell well each and every year.

If you can paint a picture with your words that builds an amazing sexual fantasy for women, you will be able to make her putty in your hands.

Before you will be able to use these words and phrases to their full effect, you will need to understand a bit about the science of HOW and WHY they work.

Basically, we are able to attach a number of memories to various words that can spark numerous emotions from various senses.

If you were to close your eyes and think about the word "sprinkler" it might bring to your mind several different images.

For instance, you might think about the emergency fire sprinklers you might find on the ceiling of your office. Or you might think about that little piece of metal that waters your grass in the mornings.

But, if I asked you to close your eyes and thinking about what it used to be like when you would run through the water sprinkler in your front yard as a child; you would probably have fond memories of putting your bathing suit on and running and jumping for hours on end with your friends and siblings.

When you are speaking to a woman, it's very easy to make her imagine things (such as getting down and dirty with him) when you know exactly what to say and how to say it.

The best part is that you can use these words and phrases exactly as they are written and it won't seem like you are trying to be sexual with him at all.

So with that out of the way, it's time to get started with some text messages you can use to really spice things up, starting right now:

1- Tight

"I had a great workout yesterday and now my muscles feel really tight."

"I was going to wear my new pair of jeans, but they are just too tight."

2 - Screw

"I'd forget my head if it wasn't screwed to my shoulders."

3 - Wet

"Sometimes you'e got to just jump on in and get your feet wet."

4 - Hard

"The class/test started getting pretty hard."

5 - Play

"I like to work hard so I can play hard."

6 - Rough

"I prefer my workouts to be a bit rough."

7 - Blow

"I thought the wind was going to blow me over, it was so strong."

8 - Lick

"The dessert was so good, I just wanted to lick the whole plate."

9 - Squeeze

"I'll try to squeeze you in if I have the time."

10 - Push

"That's just the push I needed to get this work done."

"If I can't get this work done we'll have to push it to Thursday."

11 - From Behind

"Did you see how the Giants came back from behind last night?"

"She was startled because I approached her from behind."

"A puppy just came out from behind that tree."

12 - Thrust

"That was the main thrust of the argument, yes."

"I didn't need it anymore so I thrust it aside."

13 - Sore

"I hadn't taken my bike out for a few months, so after only an hour of riding it I knew that today I was going to be really sore."

14 - On Top

"On top of that, he said he had to reschedule."

"I put my coffee mug on top of the bookshelf."

"You have to put in the hard work if you want to come out on top."

15 - Inside

"I know what kind of person you are on the inside."

"When it gets this cold, I prefer to be inside where it's warm."

16 - Come

"Why don't you come on over?"

"I had to convince her to come."

17 - Handle

"I love my razor because of its smooth handle."

"You couldn't handle me."

18 - Deep

"I love our deep conversations."

"I didn't realize you were so deep."

19 - Lips

"I can't help but stare at your lips when you speak."

"I can't understand why women wear sticky gloss on their lips."

20 - Dripping

"I'd love to go out but I have to fix my dripping faucet."

"I couldn't find my towel and was dripping wet for an hour."

Text Messages That Make Her Wet

The art of writing text messages that will turn her on sexually is an elusive and mysterious skill! Learning not only to decode your lover's texts, but to write messages which are clear and concise yourself.

Learning to express yourself using the written word is important. There is nothing especially wrong with "text speak" if you are trying to be brief and take a shortcut or two... but filling your message with slang and shortcuts which she might misinterpret is a surefire way to be ignored, or worse... You might just get exactly the opposite of what you want!

What Not To Do

Text messages can be a powerful communication tool, but there are definitely appropriate and inappropriate ways to use them in your relationships. Remember these few rules.

- 1) Don't use texting to do something that would be faster by phone. If you are trying to make plans for a date, don't spend 30 minutes writing with your thumbs when you could just call.
- 2) If you aren't going to text her to ask her out (don't, especially not for the first few dates. You should always call instead. Women enjoy being courted in the beginning)... don't text her to cancel a date either.
- 3) Don't text her immediately after your date to tell her what a great time you had. Both of you should take some time to think about the date and each other before making contact. After a few hours or a day, a quick text is a great way to reestablish contact with her.
- 4) Don't text things that don't make sense without your facial expressions and tone! Misinterpretations are common in texting. Be sure to use punctuation that can help her decipher your meaning.
- 5) Don't overkill the emoticons. They can be quite helpful for her to figure out where your head is at, but if you're winking or grinning in every other sentence, it's just a bit silly and meaningless, isn't it? Calm down.
- 6) Don't text her in the middle of the night. Don't text her a million times a day.
- 7) The Obvious: don't send her a picture of your junk unless she asks for it. If she shows you hers first, fair game, but otherwise, keep it in your pants and put the phone away.

Beyond these basic rules, how you address your texting partner depends a lot on what kind of relationship you have, and what kind you're looking for. So, what is it you desire?

Are you trying to get with someone new, or keep a fling around for a while? Are you interested in something more than a fling with a great new girl, or are you trying to get back with your ex? Are you just hoping that text messages can spice up your love life with your current partner?

Try on a few of these for size and see what text messaging can do for you. Bonus points if you can use the secret-sexy words we discussed earlier!

The New Girl: flirt ferociously

Text messaging gives you the opportunity to flirt like a fiend behind the safety of your screen. You can try out a few things, spell check, give it a read over or three. You can be as bold and brazen as you like without having to worry she might see you blush.

“Can’t wait to bust a move with you again soon! Your dance moves are tight.”

If you want to be sure she remembers you, feel free to text her quickly shortly after you get her number.

“Followed my friends to Finnigan’s Pub, you should come by if the bar scene is still rough.”

“Pouring rain out here, looking for a cab. Literally dripping wet. Hope you brought an umbrella!”

Be sure to sign your first text with your name, so she doesn’t have to awkwardly ask who it is. If you’re smooth, you’ll put your name and number in her phone when she gives you hers. Otherwise, keep your first text (and the next few, too) short and sweet. Don’t write her a novel. Save the good stuff for when you see her again!

Remind her of something funny if you want to grab her attention, or give her a good story to tell her girlfriends.

“Hope you’re not still sore about that horseback riding joke. I was pretty hard on ya. ;)”

(Don’t forget the emoticon with this one! You don’t want her thinking that you are actually worried she might not text you back because of a silly joke you made. Confidence is key.)

Making jokes and coming across as funny, cool, calm and collected is a great way to grab her attention fast. Don’t overdo it on the cheesy stuff and don’t get too sarcastic, but do give yourself the opportunity to toot your own horn - in a wink-wink, nudge-nudge sort of way. When you say something like this next text, she needs to know you're saying it with a smile, not a smirk.

"Going to play a game of b-ball with the guys. See if you can squeeze in a visit! My skills will blow your mind."

And of course, when you do finally get around to sending her a real compliment and letting her know you're interested, keep it simple and sweet. Go for the uniqueness!

"Screw nonchalance. I love how you push my boundaries and challenge me. Don't know if I can handle you, but oh do I ever want to."

Make contact, get to know each other, flirt and finally tell her that she's awesome! Not so hard, is it?

The Fling: Control The Conversation

One of the best things about text messages is that they allow you to manage the flow of conversation. Say what you want, when you want, on your own schedule. Especially when things are busy and crazy, you may not want to call her unless you are ready to plan your next date, but you can use text messaging to remind her that she's still in your phone book.

Let her know that you are busy (and then, you know, actually be busy) so she realizes you have a life other than her, and so you have something interesting to talk about when you see her next. Tell her you'll call her soon, then get back to her within 24-48 hours max.

"Been a rough week, getting a handle on some hard projects. Finally on top of things. Call you soon to make a date!"

Your second and third dates are less about being Mr. Charm and more about not giving too much. Especially if this is only a physical relationship for you, honesty in your flirting is of the utmost importance. Stringing a girl along for sex is the best way to get a bad reputation and break a heart. There are lots of women out there who are into having great sex without the commitment of a long-term relationship.

Avoid sending the wrong signals by controlling the flow of information. Are you busy on her proposed date night because your parents are in town or because you have another date? Tell her you're busy. The only reason she would need to know why you're busy is if you wanted to invite her along... and you don't invite flings to meet your parents. If you want to invite her to meet your other lover, that's another book!

Build attraction between the two of you by being comfortable and using your sex appeal. Tell jokes. Give her a cute, sexy nickname. Be a tease but not a jerk. Remind her of the things you found in common during your first meetings. Maintain common ground, even if your lust is your only shared attribute.

“I’ve been licking my lips all day thinking about that awesome restaurant you suggested. You owe me a chapstick.”

Whatever you do, so long as you want things to be casual with your lover, keep your texts casual too.

“My schedule has been so tight lately, but I really want to squeeze in a few moments with you. Come to DJ’s for a coffee tomorrow. Noon?”

Don’t fall prey to the idea that you can trade nice-guy-ness for sex. Being sweet is just that... sweet. If you want to be sexy, be sexy!

Keep the focus in your texts on the sexy bits of your relationship, since that is where you want to focus your energy. Don’t flirt like a “nice guy” - be a sex fiend!

“Was screwing around inside the garage all day, dripping sweat, totally sore. Just like our last date! Rematch when I’m recovered?”

“Don’t worry, I’ll push through it. I didn’t blow all my energy. You could come by and lick my wounds later, if you’re worried.”

Initiating Intimacy

The woman you’re with isn’t a fling anymore, no longer simply an object of desire but of affection and... maybe even a little bit of love? When you start fantasizing about forever-more, the game has got to change!

So what kind of sexy and suggestive text messages communicate that you are an assertive alpha male, without making her feel like just another fling?

Don’t just tell her that you want her. Tell her that she means something to you, that she isn’t just sexy, but smart, sensual, supportive and all the other awesome that she happens to be!

“Hey gorgeous! Can’t wait to play another round of irish pub debate club with you! Come blow me away again with that big, deep mind of yours.”

Appreciate her for everything that she does to make your life awesome. Having trouble coming up with something? That's a problem! Sit down and really think about it. Make a list of all her amazing attributes if you must. How many of them aren't entirely about her banging body?

"Been so hard trying to stay on top of things this week. Can't stop thinking bout your tight moves. Should squeeze in another dance class soon!"

If you're interested in a woman for something more than sex, it's time for your dates to evolve. Get out and do something with a short-term plan. Dance lessons are great, especially because they not only allow you to get close with each other, but to get social with some other interesting people. Make some friends-in-common!

"Having a rough week? Sounds like you've been pushing yourself pretty hard. I'm sure I could do something about those sore muscles."

The best thing about growing a more intimate relationship with someone is that you can develop your own secret language. At a dinner party and can't get out soon enough? Enjoying a night on the town and want to rendezvous back at the bar? Get in touch and stay there.

"Don't think I can handle this scene much longer. Screw the cold! Wanna head inside and get something wet on our lips?"

Keep her in the loop, stay in touch. You don't have to text her every day with the same "Hey, what's up?" message, but you should remind her regularly that you're interested. Keep those lines of communication wide open.

The Ex You Want Back:

Text messaging is uniquely amazing for reestablishing contact with your ex. Texting is low impact, low commitment, low risk. It gives you the chance to approach her on her terms, control the tone of the conversation, and do things on your very own time (letting her do things on her own time too) - in other words, your cell is your best friend.

Your main goals for texting should follow a few steps.

1. Rebuild your connection with your ex. Be sure she actually wants to hear from you, then keep chatting.

Start your interactions with a no-strings needed message that conveys a desire to get back in touch. Make sure you've done some work on yourself and are willing to be as awesome for her as she was for you! Begin with something simple.

"Finally squeezed inside those old jeans from our first date. Thought of you! How are things? We should get together sometime to catch up."

2. Get her to call you. The whole point of texting should be to get back on speaking terms.

Bring up old inside jokes, nick names you have for co-workers and family members. Talk a bit about the awesome new things that you are doing with your life. What have you been up to? Learning a martial art or a new language? Chat it up.

"Is that tight wad at the grocer still around counting his pennies? That weirdo had some deep pockets! "

3. Setup a coffee date.

If you spend enough time bringing up your new and common interests, you can lead your lover to the idea of meeting face to face for a coffee date. Tease, flirt, spend some time talking about things that turn you both on.

"Thoughts of you whirling around inside my mind lately. Can't believe we spent the entire night catching up! It was a rough day at work, that's for sure."

4. Pump up the sexual tension.

Use a bit of metaphor, a touch of flirtation, and all the sexual innuendo you can muster!

"You looked so hot the other night! It's gonna be hard to wait a whole week until I can come see you again... but I can handle it."

Get as sexy as she is comfortable with and don't be afraid to push the boundaries a bit. Just don't ignore her signs of discomfort. If she isn't into sexting, just back off.

The Long-Term Lover: Keeping Touch

The better you know some one, the more you can play with these words and get more explicit with your text messages. Sexting isn't just for kids, you know! Be flirty or funny, or both, and most of all have some fun. Do give your lover a bit of lead-in, rather than jumping right to the good stuff. Even SMS-sex requires a bit of foreplay.

One of the hardest parts of long term relationships is keeping things interesting with all the humdrum of the nine to five rat race. Text messages let you keep in touch with your lover throughout the day, without compromising your (or her) work schedules. Whether she likes something fun and flirty, hot and dirty, or maybe just a little bit of accolades about her hard work throughout the day... text messaging is the key!

"You must be working hard inside today, I know how rough the rain is on you! I'll make it up to you when I come home, I promise."

"Sounds like you worked out hard at the gym today, babe! I bet you're sore. How about a nice, hot, deep-tissue muscle squeeze when I come home?"

Use your imagination. Tell your lover how important she is to you. Remind her that you're think of her. Check in to see if there's anything you can do on your way home to make her life easier or sexier. And don't be afraid to get a bit hot and heavy! Sex is always better after a bit of anticipation.

Dirty Questions To Make Her Wet

It's easy to ask these 20 questions when you're sitting with her, but if she feels uncomfortable or believes you're trying too hard or going too fast, you may end up blowing your chances. And you'll have a hard time making her like you again.

On the other hand, by texting a few sexy questions to a girl, you can always make it seem like a joke if she doesn't warm up to you. It's easy, safe and a foolproof way to turn a girl on from a distance.

Use these questions, and if you charm the girl the right way, you could charm the pants off her and make out with her by the time you reach the twentieth question!

And the best part, it'll work wonders if she's your girlfriend or even if she's a flirty girl you have a crush on. Ask her these questions late at night for best results!

#1 Are you alone? This question is perfect to understand if she's idle and all alone at home. You obviously can't flirt or talk sex if her family is around her. Say something bold like "I wish I could be there with you" when she reciprocates with an affirmative.

#2 What are you doing right now? Play it nice and slow. This can help you be certain that she's alone and bored enough to give you her complete attention.

#3 Do you like cuddling when you lie in bed? Warm her up to a flirty conversation without overstepping the line. This can help open her up by talking about cuddling with someone else.

#4 What do you wear when you go to bed? / What are you wearing? A curious question that's perfect to ask a girl when she's in bed already. It's personal, and yet not too sexual. Say something like "Gosh, I can only imagine how cute you look right now" when she describes herself.

If it's your girlfriend, ask her what's she's wearing and if she doesn't mention her lingerie *which she may not without a bit of coaxing*, ask about her lingerie and also the color. A perfect start.

#5 What do you think you look sexiest in? Get her to talk sexual by talking about her sexy clothing. It's flattering and definitely sexual.

#6 Have you ever watched someone else make out accidentally or on purpose? This question gets both of you in the mood. And yet, by directing it at a third person, you can avoid any uncomfortable situation at the start.

#7 Has a guy even touched you discreetly in a public place ? Girls have a thing about sexual groping. Even if it's accidental, it's something they just don't forget. You can answer something like "I wish I could have been that guy!" after she tells you about an incident she likes.

#8 Have you ever made out with a guy just because you were horny at that time? Find out if she's a girl who can be coaxed into having sex with a guy in the heat of the moment.

#9 If you had a pair of x-ray glasses, which part of a guy's body *below his shoulders* would you see first? Time to get naughty. Really, how many things can a girl take a look at below a guy's shoulders? Let her answer the question so you always make it seem like she's the one talking dirty and not you.

#10 Do you like boxers or briefs? This is a clichéd question and even if a girl doesn't care about it, she'd most probably say that she likes a boxer. Answer this question by telling her what you're wearing. The whole focus here is to get her to think of your package without really making it obvious.

#11 What's your secret move to turn a guy on? By asking her to visualize making out with a guy and describe it to you, you're making her fantasize about sex. And at the same time, she may go into details just to prove how good she is sexually.

#12 If there's one place a guy should touch you to make you horny, which is that? This goes straight to sex and arousal. And if she does answer this truthfully, in all probability, she's already aroused.

#13 Does a massage make you wet? A full body massage makes almost all girls wet. You can always tell her something like "Just so you know, I came first in my masseuse class and I would love to give you a massage. And don't worry, now that I know you get horny while getting a massage, I'll linger in all the right places."

#14 If I kissed your lips accidentally while kissing goodbye, would you mind it? Make her imagine your kiss. It's a perfect question to get her to pucker up.

#15 Do you like giving an oral or getting one? No matter what she answers, you can always answer with the opposite of what she says. If she likes giving an oral, say you like getting it. If she likes getting it, tell her you love giving it!

#16 How do you think my body would look better, shaved or natural? Isn't it a nice thought to know that the girl you like is picturing you naked the minute you ask her this question?

#17 What should a guy do to make you wet? Get straight to the sweet spot. And when she does answer this question, talk about question #12 again and get descriptive about her pleasure spots.

#18 If I were whispering all these questions in your ear, would you be turned on? If you've got the conversation going this far, she's obviously wet already. But it always sounds a lot better hearing it from the girl you're texting.

#19 If you didn't have a boyfriend, do you think we would have made out with each other? / If I were with you right now, do you think we would have kissed each other? This question can actually get you into her bed, but you need to wait for the last question to get an invitation from her.

#20 If a guy wants to come over to your place and make out with you right now, would you like that? Don't talk about yourself just yet, unless you already know she wants you to come over. If she answers "yes", go full speed ahead to her place. Otherwise, play the seduction game for a few more minutes before telling her you want to come to her place right that instant.

The DIY Guide

Ready to start constructing your own masterpieces?

The art of text messaging isn't magic or rocket science! All in all, staying in touch with texts is pretty simple.

Don't try to say more than you can say in 140 characters. If it spills over into a second text message, either shorten it or call her. Be concise and clear. Be smart and sexy. Use the time you have to construct and edit a text message wisely. Don't send anything you haven't set aside at least for long enough to drink a glass of water. Read it again. Does it still make sense? Does it say what you want it to say?

Don't text too often or spend your day chatting on the phone. You both have better things to do with your time, and if you don't... you should! Get a hobby or three. You may have fewer conversations, but they'll be more interested! And interesting people definitely have more sex.

Use short words, so they don't take up too much space on the screen. Capitalize and use proper punctuation - commas, periods, exclamation marks and question marks! The more personality you can put into your messages, the better. Remember, you aren't in the room with your quirky voice, your cute smile, and your infectious laugh. You need to give her everything you can to read you in your words.

Finding Your Voice

You may not be writing the next American novel, but you can do so much to bring your personality out into your writing. If you want to get better at writing 140-character messages, start spending more time on Twitter! Follow people on Twitter who have a great deal of fans, especially guys who are followed by a lot of women. How do they communicate their own personal style?

Try writing at least one awesome tweet every day, getting as creative as you can. How many different ways can you say the same thing over and over again in one or two short sentences?

Find Her Triggers

There are certain to be some words that your lover reacts to beyond our top 20 list. When you enjoy a bit of pillow talk, sexy emails or even your own sexting, see if there are particular words or phrases she seems to respond to most. Make up your own "go to" list of terms you can use in your own messages to get her all hot and bothered.

Learning to communicate with your lover, whether face to face, in letters, on Facebook or through text messaging, is primarily an exercise in getting to know someone better. How does she prefer to communicate? How much time does she have in the day to spend texting with you?

Does she like to hear from you in the morning as a great start to her day, or in the afternoon as a bit of a pick-me-up? Or does she really just want a short goodnight from you to help her sleep soundly (or maybe a sexier night-time text session to get her nice and relaxed in bed)? Romance or rock-em-sock-em raunchiness, you can deliver with the power of your thumbs if you take the time to perfect your personal style.
